

SAVE THE DATE 5TH-8TH MAY 2020

Lamot Conference & Heritage Centre, Mechelen, Belgium

Be part of the community of professionals working with UV and skin cancer prevention

The 5th International UV and Skin Cancer Prevention Conference will bring together the international UV and skin cancer prevention communities in Mechelen (20 minutes from Brussels Airport and 30 minutes from Brussels train stations) to gain insights, share knowledge and make recommendations. It is aimed at Academics, Researchers, Public Health and communication professionals, Radiation experts, Dermatologists and other professionals working with UV and skin cancer prevention.

Addressing the main issues and challenges and making recommendations

The conference has a unique format with plenary sessions featuring high profile keynote speakers and knowledge-sharing workshop sessions driven by participant input. The objective is to present the latest scientific findings, provide opportunities for presenting and networking and come up with recommendations for future work. Main themes include:

Preliminary Program

Tuesday 5 May	8 x ½ Day Workshops
Wed 6 May- Thursday 7 May	2 Full Day Conferences
	Topic I Improvements in Epidemiology & Statistics
	Topic II Improvements in Research & Evaluation
	Topic III Improvements in Prevention
